October 2018

Dear Parent/Guardian:

As you know, your child's senior year is full of fun and exciting experiences, leading up to graduation and the hunt for either a college, a trade school or a job. While senior year should be fulfilling, there are responsibilities that come along with the fun. One of those responsibilities is selling advertisements to help offset the cost of printing Ex Libris, Wallington High School's yearbook. We ask that each senior sell $350 in yearbook ads. All forms are available in your child's google classroom.

The first deadline for a free yearbook of October 26, 2018 is fast approaching. A convenient feature of purchasing/selling yearbook ads online is enclosed. Below is a list of dates that must be met by each senior. If your child does not meet the $350 quota by the given date, a fee will be assessed in order for him/her to receive a yearbook. This assessment will be calculated based on the amount of the ads sold versus the cost of printing. The yearbook must be fully funded. Therefore, if there is a balance on what is owed for the yearbook production, the balance will be deducted from the Grade 12 Class Treasury.

We appreciate your support. If you have any questions please contact the school or email me at kruk@wboe.org. The yearbook depends on this support for its very existence.

Sincerely,

Ms. Jennifer Kruk
